The city management profession is a challenging mix of fiscal management, politics, legal issues, and public relations (to name a few). At CCMF's New & Future City Managers Seminar, you will learn keen insights from experienced city managers and hear legendary stories that will guide and inform your career choices.

The Seminar is a longstanding annual tradition, aimed at helping those who are just starting as city managers or assistant city managers.

Longtime city managers will lead the group as discussion facilitators and offer their wisdom and guidance. All participants will spend as much time together as possible during this multi-day event, making this a truly special opportunity to learn from some of the best local government leaders in California.

To apply, please send your resumé and a cover letter to Saron Vivanco at SVivanco@Santa-Clarita.com.

“CCMF’s New & Future City Managers Seminar is an all-access pass to learn about the city management profession and receive invaluable tips on being an effective City Manager. It was a lot of information over a course of a weekend, but well worth it!”

2019 New & Future City Managers Seminar attendee,
